

Amanda Ellis, Deputy Secretary, International Development Group, New Zealand Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade

Amanda Ellis is Deputy Secretary for the International Development Group, managing New Zealand's international aid and development program and advising the Government on international development issues.

Amanda is an economist specializing in international trade and development economics. Before returning to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade in July 2010, she was Lead Specialist in the Poverty Reduction and Economic Management Group of the World Bank. Amanda also managed the World Bank's Global Private Sector Leaders CEO Forum.

Amanda's previous roles with the Ministry in the 1990s included positions at the OECD in Paris, as Consul in the French Pacific Territories, and as manager of New Zealand's aid programs in Viet Nam, Laos PDR and Cambodia.